We invite you to a first facilitated Open Gathering on the topic of "Living Together: Yes? No? How?"

We will share stories about the beauty and challenges of living together as Swiss local people and refugees or migrants in the current context of war and transformations.

We welcome different views and opinions, from far left to far right, and create a space that can hold complexities and contradictions between diverse and opposing views. We believe that all voices, feelings, and positions have a right to exist and we facilitate interaction between polarities for new understanding, perspectives and unexpected solutions to emerge.

Facilitators
